RABBI'S REMARKS

Rabbi Mordecai Miller

Life in Balance

It might be an open question whether or not the first person who ever came up with the idea of setting up a budget is in heaven...or is residing in the other place.

On the one hand, the process is time-consuming. It involves a lot of attention to detail, coordination, and inevitably some painful decision making. One tries to learn from past experience and yet make allowance for change. On the other hand, if successful, it becomes a tool to negotiate both the certainties as well as the uncertainties of the future: income versus expense. More than anything else, it is a clear demonstration of the values of its creators: a reflection of shared priorities. The process of arriving at this mutual agreement demands patience, selflessness, even, at times, a measure of sacrifice. How easy is it to put the common good above one's particular interests?

Regardless, I suspect the process was born of necessity. For most individuals as well as organizations: Given a limited supply of income, how might it be spent so as to be of greatest benefit to the organization, or the individual?

How we choose to spend our money speaks volumes about what we like and dislike: who we really are as human beings.

The issues surrounding the notion of planning how to spend financial resources applies just as well to our other main resource: Time.

This, too, is in limited supply, with other uncertainties thrown into the mix! Just as we cannot guarantee positive future income, we cannot be absolutely certain regarding our future time when it comes to our physical health or our emotional well-being; each of which have a direct effect on the way we will be able to spend our time.

Just as our financial budgets have expenses which range from fixed to unanticipated, our time over the days, weeks, and months can be divided along a spectrum ranging from daily/weekly responsibilities to discretionary or free time. Decisions need to be made how much time to be spent with family and one's work as well as hobbies, travel, entertainment, exercise, study, volunteer organizations etc.

Of course, an essential element of the budget process is watching it unfold as the months pass by: seeing how much over or under budget one is, and comparing it to past performance. At such moments we are forced to evaluate the nature of the discrepancy: is it a result of carelessness or necessity, or is it a result of poor planning?

We might well apply a similar principle to our own lives! Perhaps we're fully content with our time management; on the other hand we might have some nagging doubts or a sense of unfulfilled expectations. Again it's a time to engage in some honest evaluation; to see if there's a need to make some changes—or perhaps re-evaluate where we are headed.

Perhaps our greatest resistance to the budget process is the degree that it is preferably, if not essentially, unemotional. It stands at the polar opposite of spontaneity.

We are far from being unemotional by nature; joy and spontaneity go hand in glove. Yet, as one wit put it: "Those who fail to plan plan to fail!"

Finding the balance may well be the secret of a life well lived!

Adopt a Cat

I am looking for a new loving home maybe with one person, for a beautiful, six and a half year old cat I adopted recently.

She wants to be the only cat. She was found in an apartment complex near Montgomery and Summerfield, just sitting there. She is healthy, has had all of her shots, is micro-chipped and has had her post adoption visit to a vet. She goes in and out, enjoys the sun, and should be in a home with a fenced yard as she is very heavy and cannot jump a fence. She is very affectionate with me and happy to be near me, unknown about anyone else. She will chase other cats and that is why I am looking for someone who wants an only cat. I am asking a donation of $50 made out to the Volunteers of the West Los Angeles Animal Shelter.

Please let me know if you'd like a visit some afternoon. Strangely, she might do o.k. as a rest home visitor as long as no cats are around. She seems to ignore dogs.

NURSERY SCHOOL NOTES

Jenny Levine-Smith
Nursery School Director

Summertime, and the living is easy at Beth Ami Community Nursery School. June 13 will mark the start of our four, two-week summer sessions, a joyful time to enjoy the buzzing and the chirping of the great outdoors!

In some ways the summer is an extension of our school year. We have the same style of emergent curriculum, many of our teachers are here over the summer, and our kids continue on in the same classrooms. But in other ways, it's a different world! It's quieter, as many families go off on vacations, and there are more opportunities for outdoor play, mixed-age groups, planting and harvesting, getting wet and drying off in the sun. We also welcome a few new friends and new teachers each summer.

Before we get to summer, we've got our last few days of school and our end-of-year potluck picnic on Friday, June 3. This is a time to recognize our students for all the ways in which they've grown, to recognize our incredible teachers, to say thank you to our families for being a part of the community, and to say goodbye to our oldest kids who are moving on to kindergarten.

Registration for fall continues over the summer. We have a few spots left, so don't hesitate to give me a call or send me an e-mail if you'd like more information about our school. The 2016-17 school year starts on Monday, August 22.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL REPORT

Anya Concoff Por—Director of Youth Education

It is hard to believe this school year has come to an end. We had an incredibly full calendar with Rockin' Shabbats, a fieldtrip to Howarth Park with services and dinner by the lake, Judaic pottery painting (twice!), Tzedakah day, Tikkun Olam day and lots of wonderful holiday celebrations. We enjoyed coming together every Friday for learning through doing, and celebrating Shabbat. Our monthly family potluck dinners gave us an opportunity to continue our Shabbat time together and allowed us to build a beautiful community within a community.

I wish you all a lovely summer full of a good balance of rest and adventure, and long days filled with joy and well-being!

Fall will bring us new opportunities to make friends, learn about and love Judaism, as well as deepen our engagement with Shabbat. We will enjoy together Junior Congregation (called the Musaf-kateers!) and Tot Shabbat! Our Family Potlucks will grow into a monthly young family dinner club. Our teen class will continue to learn about and discuss Israel and Jewish communities today, both in Israel and the diaspora.

Our first day of school for the 2016–2017 school year is Tuesday September 13th (for 5-7th graders) and Friday September 16th (for PK-7th graders). I look forward to greeting the children again with freckles on their noses and roses in their cheeks after a lot of good outdoor play and free time, ready to learn and support each other in the classroom.

Miriam will enter her second year as Youth Advisor for our USY teens, and she has a lot of great retreats, events and fundraising projects planned. Judy will continue to bring us amazing programs and the rest of our great faculty will be back as well!

On a personal note, I am very grateful to call Beth Ami my home and for the privilege of teaching the children of our community. Thank you all for a great year!

ISRAEL FROM THE LEFT COAST

Bob Raful

When I first heard the name, Reuven Rivlin, he was Speaker of the Knesset,; an old fashioned, tough political pro. I thought back to that earlier time last week, when I read his speech at the Western Wall, on Yom HaZikaron, Israel's Memorial Day, May 10th. It was broadcast on TV and printed as a blog in The Times of Israel, 11 May. He is now the President of Israel.

I know Memorial Day has passed; but I was so impressed with how President Rivlin has grown into a PRESIDENT who can speak to the entire country, that I used this space for some of the speech highlights. I hope you agree it is worth remembering once again.

My heart is broken, my heart is torn

"Today is a day of mourning — both national and personal — each and every one of us has loved ones that are gone.

Together, a great nation mourns its fallen: Ami, my neighborhood hero, who was only 16-years-old. Freddie, an ember plucked from the fire on Seder night, 1947; he had survived the Holocaust, and yet was killed on the battlefield. Maoz and his son Nir, Eran and his father Dubi, boys who followed the fathers they barely got to know. Hussein Ali, a bride-groom who never made it to his wedding day. Hadar, guardian of the walls of Jerusalem, who died as she protected them, just this year.

The list of our fallen goes on and on. None of them had planned for death. None of us brings children into the world with the thought that one day we will bury them in the soil and say the Mourner's Prayer, Kaddish, standing over their open graves. Fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, grandparents, I stand in front of you and my heart is broken, my heart is torn.

...However, the IDF is not just the army of all of us; the IDF is all of us. It is the secular and the religious, Jewish and non-Jewish, it is Arab, Bedouin, Druze and Circassian. It is those born in Israel and it is immigrants; it is sons of the city, and of the settlements, members of Moshavim and Kibbutzim; it is the length and breadth of the country, left and right. And the map of grief surrounds us all, on a chilling and equal scale.

You, who did not have the chance to finish bestowing love...It is thanks to you that we can love. You, who did not manage to see your children grow up. It is thanks to you that our streets are filled with life, with boys and girls playing. You, who did not manage to fulfill your dreams. It is because of you that we can dream.

May the memory of our loved and cherished sons and daughters be engraved on our hearts forever. "

THE KITCHEN CORNER

Jeffrey & Janet Stein-Larson (Co-Chairs)

Our CBA Kitchen is all about food. We have foods for all types of celebrations; for celebrations of holidays and for celebrations of life. Each holiday has its own special flavor and traditions to make it more special or focused. Shavuot is just around the corner, featuring the special dairy dishes like cheeses, cheese kreplach, macaroni & cheese, blintzes and cheese cakes. The tradition of eating majorly dairy foods during Shavuot focuses on the Mitzvot of keeping Kosher which had us separate dairy from meat dishes, one of the many Mitzvot we received when we received and accepted the Torah.

And in the summer after Shavuot we have a couple of fasts (the Fast of 17th of Tammuz & the Fast of 9th of Av), which uses the lack of food to add to the meaning and praying for these days.

At this time we want to send out big thank you to all of you who made all of the events during this past year possible; the members of the Kitchen Committee for keeping the kitchen maintained and organized; all of our mashgichim volunteers who kept kitchen use & food use safe, secure and ensuring that the events followed the Kosher guidelines set by CBA; all the event volunteers (who organized, prepared, set-up & cleaned up for their various events—big or small), and all of our Beth Ami members who are supporting us. With your continued help, we are all helping to make the Beth Ami Kitchen more open to our congregation's needs.

“The kitchen is where community happens and people come together”—Jeffrey & Janet Stein-Larson (Co-Chairs of the kitchen committee)

HOLOCAUST REMEMBRANCE DAY

GREEN COMMITTEE

GREENING the Shul Progress Report

In the March, we planted the two lemon trees donated at Tu b'Shevat behind the Multi-Purpose Room of the Social Hall. We are planning to plant two or three more trees in that area before summer.

We prepared an insert for the bulletins used at Passover services about Sea Level Rise, sharing a site where you can see how SLR affects a given zip code. Check it out at <http://tinyurl.com/o8zwutc>. It's set for downtown Sonoma, where people are going to be wading if we don't make some changes, but you can put in any zip code. We also shared seven free things to do (one for each week of counting the Omer) to make a difference: unplug vampire electronics; walk, bike, or take transit once a week; turn off the tap when brushing teeth, washing ends or shaving; stop idling your engine! (this is a big one); reduce food waste; skip the straw; and recycle wisely.

On May 20th, the GREEN Committee will be helping the Religious School with their Tik-kun Olam Day, while getting help to plant tomatoes, marigolds, and herbs in grow-bags and pots in the area under the trees in the patio. Once the stump of the palm tree behind the kitchen is removed, these will be moved behind the kitchen. We'll be sharing ideas with the kids about such things as companion planting, no-till agriculture, and do-it-yourself pots.

Thanks to all who have been bringing their CRV recyclables to shul and putting them in the square containers on the patio. So far we have earned nearly $50 for the Religious School. Please keep remembering!

eScrip Update—An Easy Way to Help CBA Raise Funds

Thank you to supporters of eScrip who earned over $520 for Beth Ami from January—March, 2016 (this includes the March quarterly payment of $271.64 from Safe-way for 2015/2016). This generous donation was achieved just by doing everyday shopping.

Special Note: So far, over the last 11 years (2005-2016) Beth Ami has earned $21,659 from eScrip!!

News Flash: Lucky, Food Maxx & Save Mart have partnered with eScrip so Beth Ami can earn up to 3% on all eligible purchases. To connect your account, go to www.escrip.com/shares. Add your phone number or rewards card number to your eScrip account to opt in.

Shop at other eScrip merchants: Oliver's Markets in Santa Rosa, Cotati, & now Windsor, Fircrest Market in Sebastopol, Glen Ellen Village Market, Sonoma Market, Petaluma Market, Molsberry Market. They all require a separate store Community Card linked up with the Beth Ami name and ID#136921119. Just ask at the store about how to get a card.

Shop online at: <https://shopping.escrip.com> or by joining eScripdining at: <http://escrip.rewardsnetwork.com> and eating out.

Recruit more supporters: anyone can participate in eScrip and contribute; you do not have to be a CBA member & you do not have to live in Sonoma County. Invite your friends & relatives to join us!

After 9 years of coordinating the eScrip program, it is time for me to step down. We are in the process of identifying my replacement, so stay tuned for a future announcement. In the meantime, if you have eScrip questions, contact the CBA office.

SOCIAL ACTION SCOOP

Lyla Nathan

Members from Beth Ami and our extended community have been volunteering at the Redwood Empire Food Bank over five years. Many members have packaged fruit or vegetables or have worked in the kitchen. Some have gone occasionally and a few have made it their commitment to be there every first Wednesday of the month. Many of our young adults have also participated during school breaks. I want to thank everyone for their effort.

This year was the first time that some of us volunteered at the Gala Empty Bowls Fund Raiser held in the warehouse of the food bank. It was an opportunity to see and hear first-hand the impact of it's work and how well supported it is from all ares of our community. It is truly a jewel of Sonoma County.

David Goodman, Chief Executive Officer, spoke about the numbers of people that the food bank serves. But what was most telling is that he speaks personally to everyone who comes for assistance and asks them, What brings you to REFB? He listens to their story. Everyone is different. No one is treated as a number. Hunger is a human problem , not a number problem.

David also talked about bankers; the people that make the organization work. There are the 50 staff, over 8000 yearly volunteers and community donors. He made it clear how important each group is to make the food bank a success.

A highlight of the evening was the auction bidding to help buy needed equipment: a trailer truck, forklift and other items for the warehouse. They wanted to raise $300,000 In the end, they raised more than $350,000. It was amazing to see the energy in the room and the generous outpouring from our community. I was so honored to experience it.

So what I want to say is that I am so proud of all of us at Beth Ami who help those hungry and in need. Either by volunteering, bringing food for the pantry, handing out bags for the homeless or giving generous donations, we all are helping alleviate hunger in our community.

So, this summer there is a lunch program for kids who usually get free lunch through school. It is a weekly commitment to serve lunch either at a school or housing community. We could do it as a group or alone. if you are interested please contact Maira Reynosa@refb.org or 707-5237900,ext 121 or Lyla Nathan5@gmail.com. All volunteers must be at least 18.

We will be going to the food bank this summer: Wednesday, June 1; July 6 and Aug. 3. If a group of students want to set a date that would work also.

Sustainers' Circle Of Congregation Beth Ami

Barbara Tomin, VP of Education, and Carolyn Metz, former CBA Executive Director, have long discussed the need for a CBA reserve fund as well as a program that would allow Congregation Beth Ami be able to develop and implement new programs, modify patterns that were no longer working, and attend to the deferred maintenance that our campus buildings and grounds sorely need.

A little over a year ago, we were inspired to create a renewed youth education program for Beth Ami. To stay true to the CBA Mission, changes were highly recommended, starting with the Nursery School, and expanding to the Religious School including all aspects of education: keeping our youth engaged and including new young families. The Board of Directors said, "We love your ideas; go find the money!" So we did!

In the Spring, 2015, we, with the blessing of Mel Decker, VP of Fund Development and the support of Rabbi Miller, initiated a program called Congregation Beth Ami Sustainers' Circle.

Sustainers' Circle is composed of members who are committed to the financial sustainability of our Beth Ami community by providing a significant multi-year gift which will encourage and enable creativity, change, growth and preservation of all aspects of the congregation: spiritual, physical, operational and programmatic.

By June 30, 2015, we, with the help of Judi Hyman and Rabbi Miller, had raised annual pledges of $79,000 from 12 members, which will be paid each year of 3 years, at which time we will return to those donors to seek a renewal of their pledge. Recently, $9,000 in annual gifts from 3 additional donors has been raised.

Our goal is to reach the $100,000 annual gift mark. These dollars are donated above and beyond what each member contributes for dues, capital campaign and other donations during a normal year.

We found our members inspired by "the ask" and very generous in their contributions. Dollars raised by Sustainers' have been allocated to Beth Ami Community Nursery School, Youth Education Department, Building & Maintenance for repair of leaks and repainting of the exterior of the Sanctuary, new computers in our offices and we even have been able to start a reserve fund in case of unanticipated emergencies.

We are personally awed by the generosity and commitment of the following Beth Ami members who currently make up Sustainer's Circle $88,000 annual pledges: Ivan & Kimiko Barta, Henry Cohn, Stan Feingold & Roz Edelson, Andy & Nancy Fleming, Rick Goldberg, Russ & Terry Gurevitch, Judi Hyman, Carolyn Metz, Rabbi & Susan Miller, Mike & Ellen Mundell, Bobbie Rosenthal, Ron & Lillian Shelan, Judy Stern, Barbara Tomin and Paul & Michelle Zygielbaum.

For more information about how you can become a Sustainer and help us reach our goal, please call or email either Barbara Tomin, (BTprojects@sonic.net; 707-576-1167) or Carolyn Metz (cmetzrealtor@gmail.com; 707-481-3390)

GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS TO OUR CONGREGATION

The next time you are looking for a meaningful way to celebrate a joyous occasion, remember a loved one, or comfort a mourner, please consider a donation to Congregation Beth Ami. Congregation Beth Ami truly appreciates your support.
